Meet Holiday Babies at Frying Pan Farm Park

Frying Pan Farm Park has much to be thankful for this holiday season. On a cold and blustery day earlier this month, Black Beauty, a pure bred Black Angus cow, gave birth to a beautiful heifer (girl) calf. After spending over an hour in the field during delivery, the farmers decided to name the calf Windy.

Birthing season started early this year when Annabelle, a Guernsey cow, delivered a healthy bull calf on Thanksgiving morning. In honor of the holiday, he was named Gravy. Stop by Kidwell barn at 4 p.m. and meet Annabelle while she gets her afternoon milking. All the animals at the park are taking visitors. The calves grow quickly on their mothers' rich milk, so visit often to see the changes.

Bundle up and come experience life on the farm this holiday season. Savor the crisp winter air on a stroll around the farm and check out the animals' thick winter coats. Hike the nature trail to look for animal tracks. Then warm up in the Country Store and explore the unique array of holiday gifts. The park will be closed December 24 and 25.
